

Presentation

going to

You can use be + going to + infinitive to talk about intentions or plans for the future:

I'm going to stay single.

I'm never going to get married.

Affirmative and negative

I	'm / 'm not	going to	get married.
He / She / It	's / isn't
You / We / They	're / aren't

Question

(When)	Am	I	going to	invite Harry?
	Is	he / she / it
	Are	you / we / they

Present continuous

You can use the present continuous to talk about arrangements in the future:

Paula and I are getting married on 1st May.

I'm meeting Harry tomorrow night at eight.

See also Units 8 and 9.

Present continuous or going to?

You can use either form to talk about plans and arrangements in the future:

We're playing tennis tomorrow.

We're going to play tennis tomorrow.

When you use the present continuous to talk about the future you normally use a specific future time expression:

We're playing tennis tomorrow.

If you don't use a future time expression (or the time is not obvious), the present continuous refers to the present time:

We're playing tennis tomorrow. (= future)

We're playing tennis. (= now at the moment of speaking)

go and come

You normally use the verbs go and come in the present continuous, not with going to:

Who's coming to your wedding? (not Who's going to come to your wedding?)

Who's going to the wedding? (not Who's going to go to the wedding?)

1 Look at the pictures and write sentences. Use going to and the phrases in the box.
